

ARCHAEOLOGICAL FINDINGS IN KINGS AVENUE MALL SHOPPING CENTER

The archaeological findings discovered in the surrounding area, have been protected and emerged with an innovative and unique methodology in Cyprus and under special machinery and techniques, the entire tract of land with the antiquities was brought outside the workplace to protect themselves and in a second stage to highlight. This innovative method became possible with the advent of special teams and machinery from Greece and the expenses that were amounted were shouldered by the owner of Kings Avenue Mall. The pottery and the remaining archaeological material does not indicate the use of residential premises and it follows that it is rather a public building, probably public baths.
